Museum Victoria reveals Opening Ceremony

The secrets of the Melbourne 2006 Commonwealth Games Opening Ceremony will be revealed in the extraordinary Spirit of the Games exhibition at Melbourne Museum.

Spirit of the Games is the highlight of an extensive line up of exhibitions and activities hosted by Museum Victoria to celebrate the Melbourne 2006 Commonwealth Games, announced today.

Featuring around 300 objects as well as exclusive film footage of the ceremony, Spirit of the Games is a major exhibition for Museum Victoria, with more than 70 people working on the highly confidential project over the past two years.

Opening on 18 March, the exhibition will incorporate costumes, props and other highlight material from the spectacular event.

Other highlights of Museum Victoria wide-ranging program include an official Melbourne 2006 Commonwealth Games Live Site on Melbourne Museum's plaza featuring Melbourne Food and Wine Festival activities, craft exhibition Common Goods at Melbourne Museum and Best of the Best from the Commonwealth Photographic Awards at the Immigration Museum.

"We are really looking forward to playing our part in the excitement of the Melbourne 2006 Commonwealth Games. Opening just days after the ceremony itself, Spirit of the Games is a fantastic opportunity to find out some of the behind-the-scenes secrets of the Ceremony and relive the magic of the most dramatic event to be staged in Melbourne," said Dr J Patrick Greene, CEO, Museum Victoria.

"Our curators and exhibition producers have worked closely with the Commonwealth Games Ceremonies Team to ensure our exhibition captures the essence and excitement of the Opening Ceremony" he added.
